

UDO MIDDELMANN

Udo Middelman has a unique perspective on Biblical issues which is informed by a truly international upbringing and education. He holds degrees in both law (LLM from Freiburg University, Germany) and theology (BD and MA from Covenant Theological Seminary, Missouri). His teaching experience reflects the same international flavor. For eight years, he held the Crawford Chair for Religion at The King's College in Briarcliff Manor, New York, and later became a visiting professor in the department of philosophy at The King's College in New York City. He also served as Instructor in Apologetics and Postmodernism at the Geneva Bible Institute. For 7 years he was a consultant and principal speaker in seminars on "Ethics for a Civil Society" for the Russian Ministry for Education in 65 regional capitals of Russia, Ukraine, Estonia, Romania and Moldova.

Middelman's approach to the age-old problems of the world is both scholarly and practical. He has lectured widely on ethics and society in many countries on every continent. His diverse career experience also includes fifteen years as an associate pastor in Switzerland and four years as the Education Program director for the International Institute for Relief and Development of Food for the Hungry in Geneva, Switzerland.

For the last 23 years, he has been the President of the Francis A. Schaeffer Foundation. He is married to Deborah, the daughter of Francis and Edith Schaeffer. Middelman is a prolific author who regularly publishes his reflections on current issues in "Footnotes" (tri-annual publication of the Schaeffer Foundation) and has written six books. They are Pro-existence (1974), The Market-driven Church (2004), The Innocence of God (2007), Christianity versus Fatalistic Religions in the War against Poverty (2008), Neither Necessary nor Inevitable: History Needn't Have Been Like This (2010) and God and Man at Work (2013). He has also authored numerous articles and chapters for new editions of Francis Schaeffer's books and most recently for a new edition of Christianity is Jewish by Edith Schaeffer.
